Biddeford, Maine: A Thriving Coastal Community

Biddeford, Maine's sixth-largest city with a population of over 21,000, is a vibrant community located along the I-95 corridor, just 15 miles south of Portland and 90 miles north of Boston. With a rich history dating back to the early 1600s, Biddeford and its sister city, Saco, have long served as the commercial center of York County. Once a global textile hub, Biddeford's economy today is diverse, featuring manufacturing, technology, and service-based industries. The city is also home to two major institutions—Southern Maine Health Care and the University of New England—both of which continue to grow and contribute to the region's economic strength.

Biddeford's 30 square miles offer a stunning mix of natural beauty, from vast woodlands to a spectacular coastline. Outdoor enthusiasts can explore Clifford Park's 140-acre trail system or enjoy the city's two miles of sandy beaches, framed by rocky cliffs. Surfing at Fortune's Rocks, tide pooling at Biddeford Pool, and visiting the historic Wood Island Lighthouse are just a few ways to experience the coastal charm. The Timber Point Trail, part of the Rachel Carson U.S. Wildlife Preserve, and the East Point Audubon Sanctuary provide additional opportunities for nature lovers.

Beyond the beaches, the western part of the city features rolling hills, traditional New England farmhouses, and picturesque pastures. The Saco River, which flows 14 miles through Biddeford before meeting the sea at Hills Beach-Camp Ellis, adds to the city's scenic beauty. The RiverWalk, a downtown trail, offers urban views of the river, while boaters and paddlers can access the water via the Marble Head Boat Launch and Rotary Park.

Biddeford's downtown is a dynamic mix of history and innovation. Once-abandoned textile mills have been revitalized into a thriving mixed-use community at the Pepperell Mill Campus, featuring residential apartments, businesses, and the Biddeford Mills Museum. The historic City Theater, first opened in 1896 and restored in the colonial revival style, is the cultural heart of the city, hosting concerts, plays, and performances year-round.

Food lovers will find plenty to enjoy in downtown Biddeford, with an array of restaurants offering everything from quick bites to gourmet dining. Local craft breweries add to the city's growing culinary scene. Heart of Biddeford, the city's Main Street organization, actively promotes downtown vitality and organizes community events like the River Jam Festival and Winterfest, strengthening the city's sense of community.

Biddeford residents benefit from a high quality of life, with access to excellent schools, a modern regional hospital, a public library, parks, and a municipal airport. The city's natural resources, thriving arts and dining scenes, and community traditions—such as the annual La Kermesse Franco-Americaine Festival celebrating its French heritage—make Biddeford a wonderful place to live, work, and explore.

REAL ESTATE BROKERAGE RELATIONSHIPS FORM

Right Now You Are A Customer

Are you interested in buying or selling residential real estate in Maine? Before you begin working with a real estate licensee it is important for you to understand that Maine Law provides for different levels of brokerage service to buyers and sellers. You should decide whether you want to be represented in a transaction (as a client) or not (as a customer). To assist you in deciding which option is in your best interest, please review the following information about real estate brokerage relationships:

Maine law requires all real estate brokerage companies and their affiliated licensees ("licensee") to perform certain basic duties when dealing with a buyer or seller. You can expect a real estate licensee you deal with to provide the following customer-level services:

- ✓ To disclose all material defects pertaining to the physical condition of the real estate that are known by the licensee;
- ✓ To treat both the buyer and seller honestly and not knowingly give false information;
- ✓ To account for all money and property received from or on behalf of the buyer or seller; and
- ✓ To comply with all state and federal laws related to real estate brokerage activity.

Until you enter into a written brokerage agreement with the licensee for client-level representation you are considered a "customer" and the licensee is not your agent. As a customer, you should not expect the licensee to promote your best interest, or to keep any information you give to the licensee confidential, including your bargaining position.

You May Become A Client

If you want a licensee to represent you, you will need to enter into a written listing agreement or a written buyer representation agreement. These agreements create a client-agent relationship between you and the licensee. As a client you can expect the licensee to provide the following services, in addition to the basic services required of all licensees listed above:

services required of all licensees listed above:

- ✓ To perform the terms of the written agreement with skill and care;
- ✓ To promote your best interests;
 - For seller clients this means the agent will put the seller's interests first and negotiate the best price and terms for the seller;
 - For buyer clients this means the agent will put the buyer's interests first and negotiate for the best prices and terms for the buyer; and
- ✓ To maintain the confidentiality of specific client information, including bargaining information.

COMPANY POLICY ON CLIENT-LEVEL SERVICES — WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

The real estate brokerage company's policy on client-level services determines which of the three types of agent-client relationships permitted in Maine may be offered to you. The agent-client relationships permitted in Maine are as follows:

- ✓ The company and all of its affiliated licensees represent you as a client (called "single agency");
- ✓ The company appoints, with your written consent, one or more of the affiliated licensees to represent you as an agent(s) (called "appointed agency");
- ✓ The company may offer limited agent level services as a disclosed dual agent.

WHAT IS A DISCLOSED DUAL AGENT?

In certain situations a licensee may act as an agent for and represent both the buyer and the seller in the same transaction. This is called disclosed dual agency. Both the buyer and the seller must consent to this type of representation in writing.

Working with a dual agent is not the same as having your own exclusive agent as a single or appointed agent. For instance, when representing both a buyer and a seller, the dual agent must not disclose to one party any confidential information obtained from the other party.

Remember!

Unless you enter into a written agreement for agency representation, you are a customer—not a client.

THIS IS NOT A CONTRACT

It is important for you to know that this form is not a contract. The licensee's completion of the statement below acknowledges that you have been given the information required by Maine law regarding brokerage relationships so that you may make an informed decision as to the relationship you wish to establish with the licensee/company.
